

AtliQ Hardwares

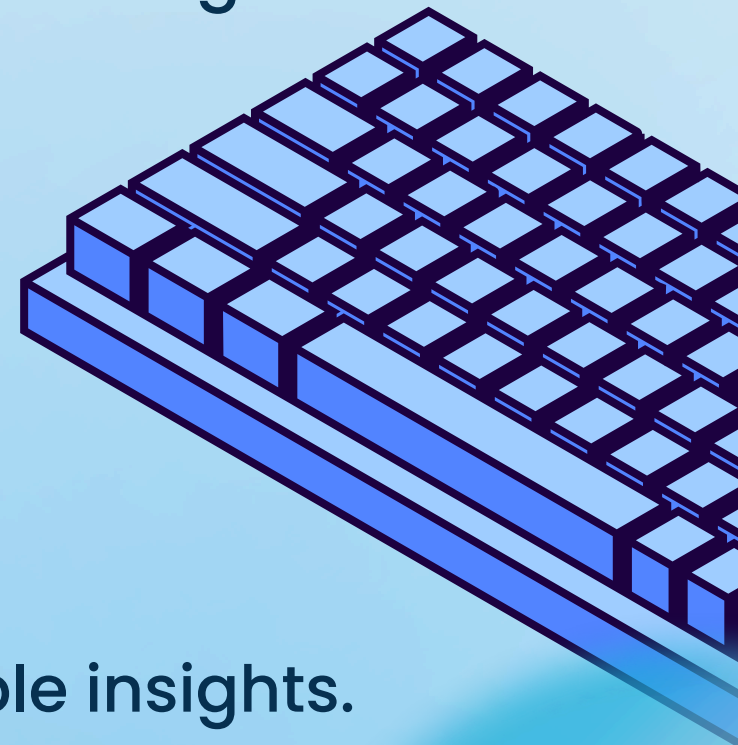

Consumer Goods Ad-Hoc insights

Presented by Palak Soni

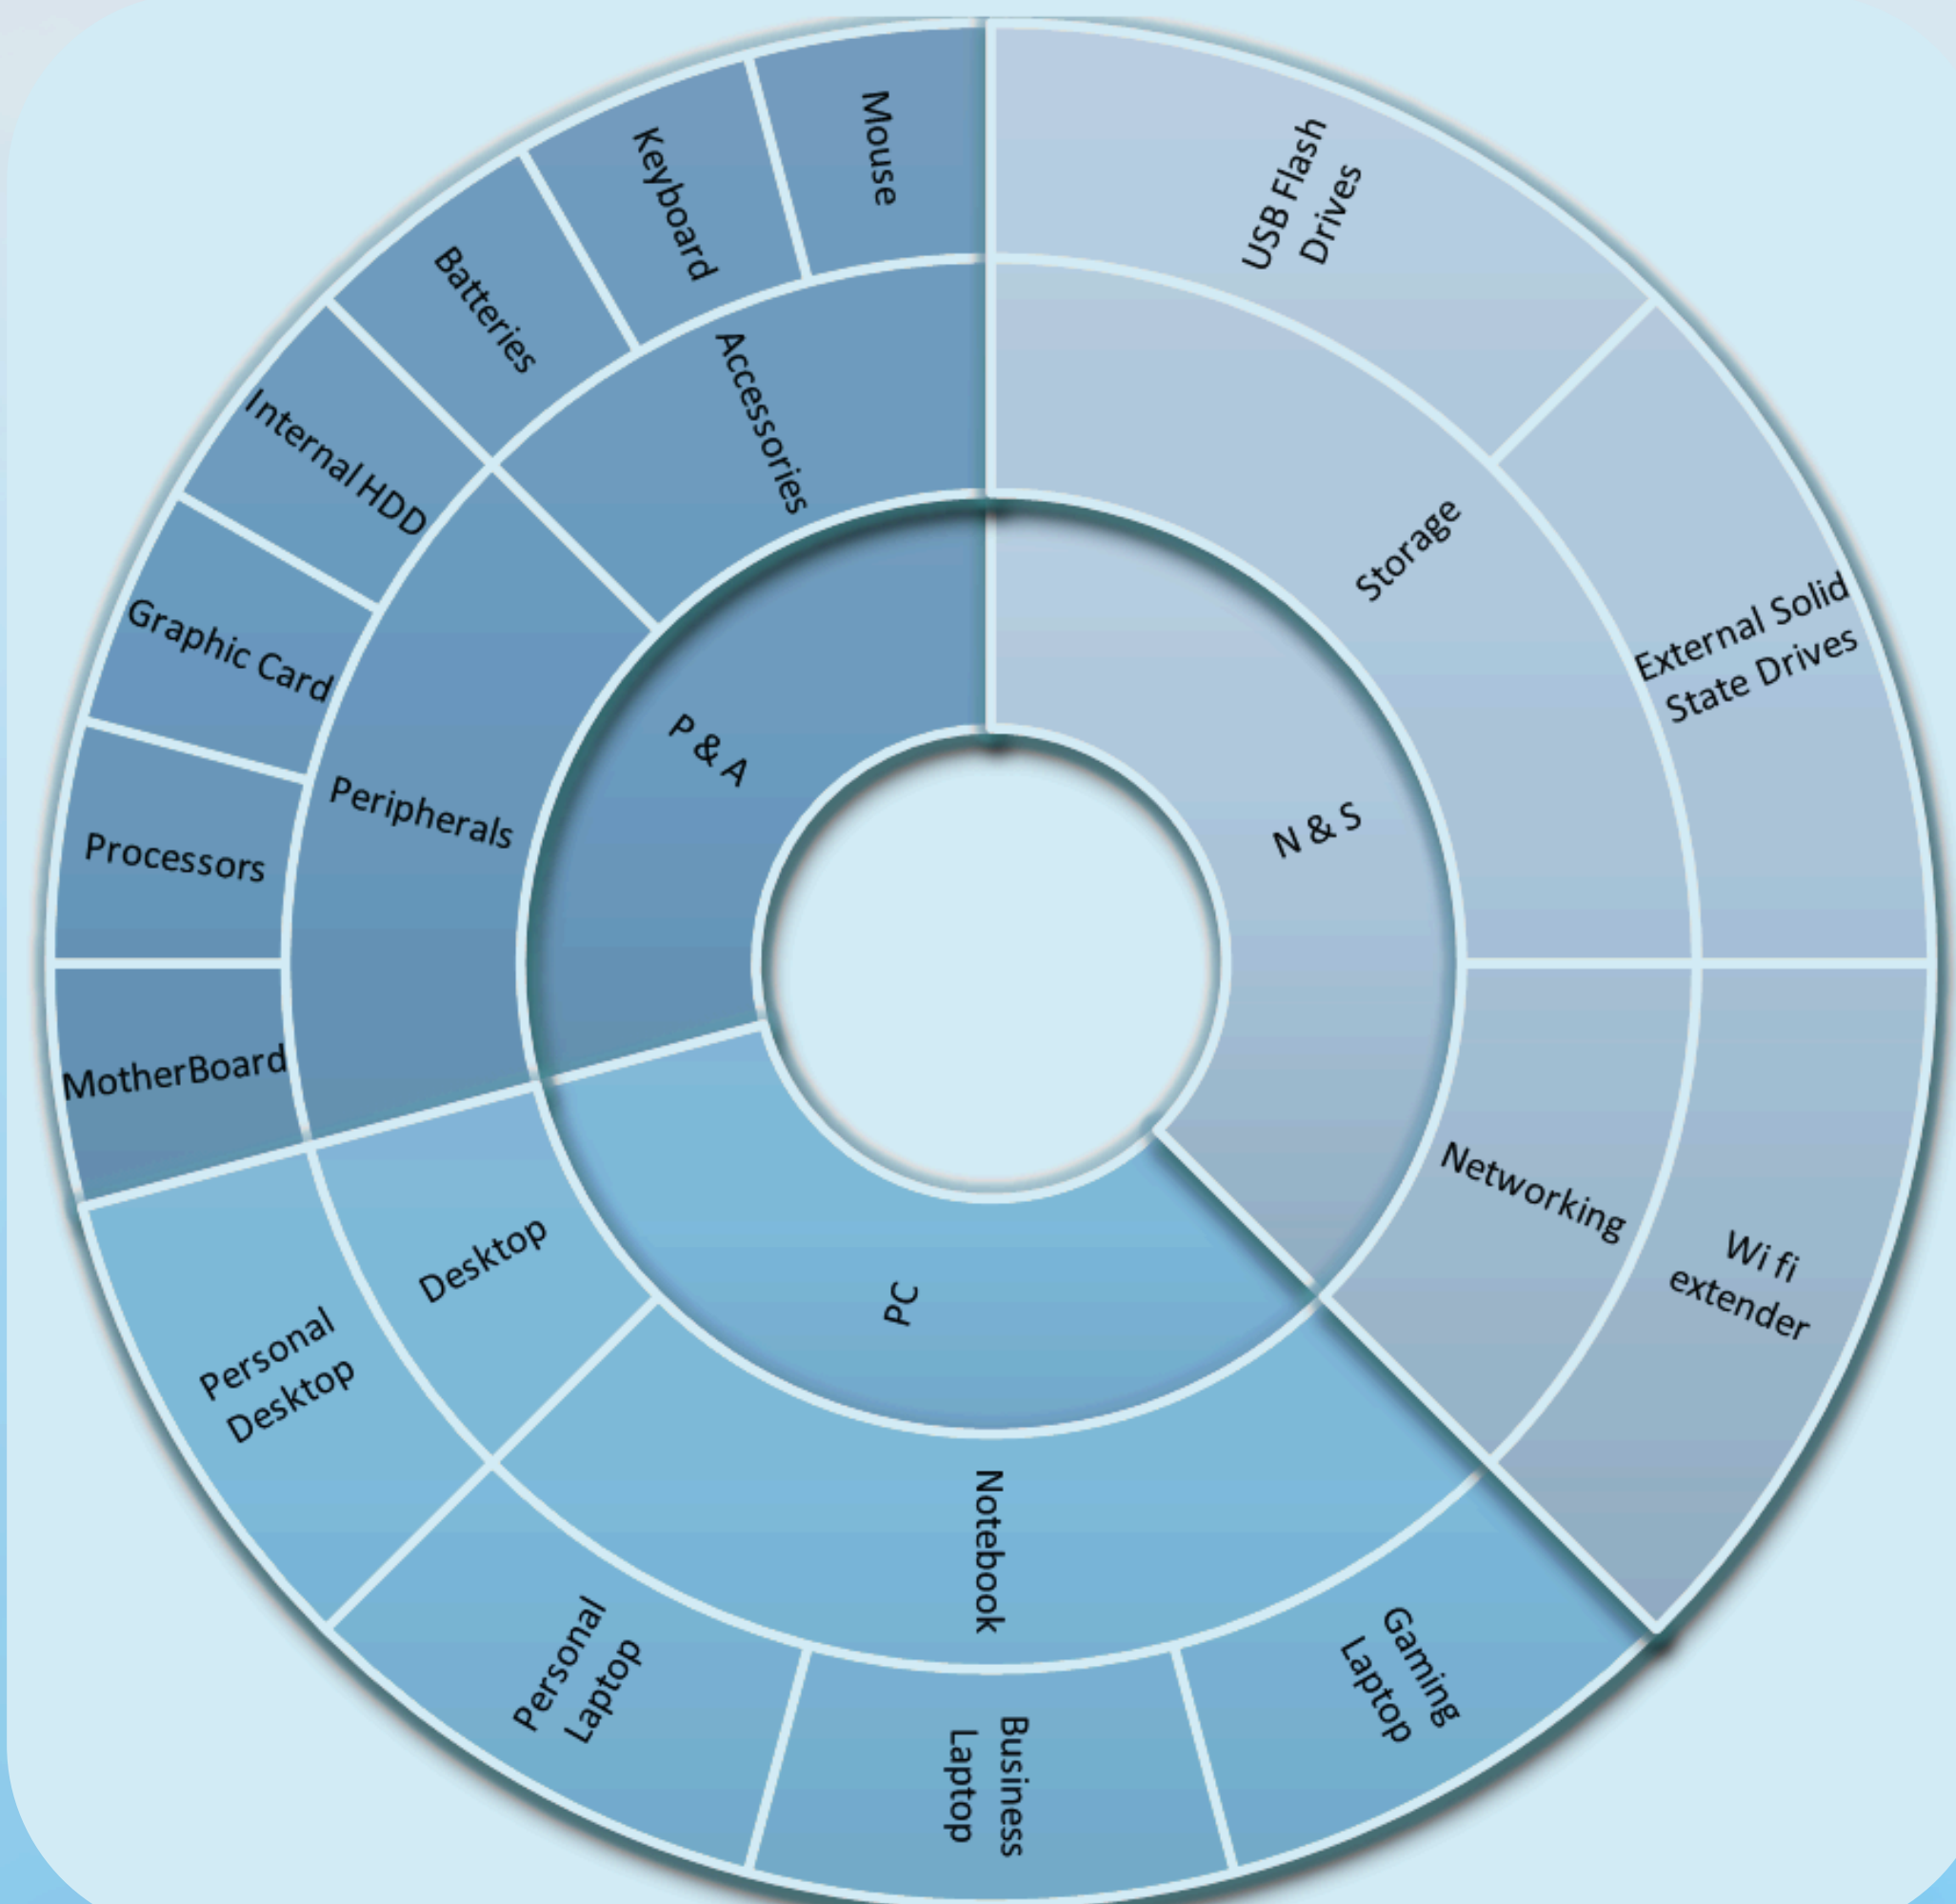

Project Overview (Problem + Objective)

- AtliQ Hardwares is a leading computer hardware company operating in India and expanding globally.
- The company is facing challenges in getting meaningful data insights for decision-making.
- Due to this, business decisions are not fully data-driven and can be slow.
- To address this, a SQL challenge was introduced to analyze business data.
- The objective of this project is to answer key business questions and generate actionable insights.
- The insights are presented using data visualization to support better decision-making.

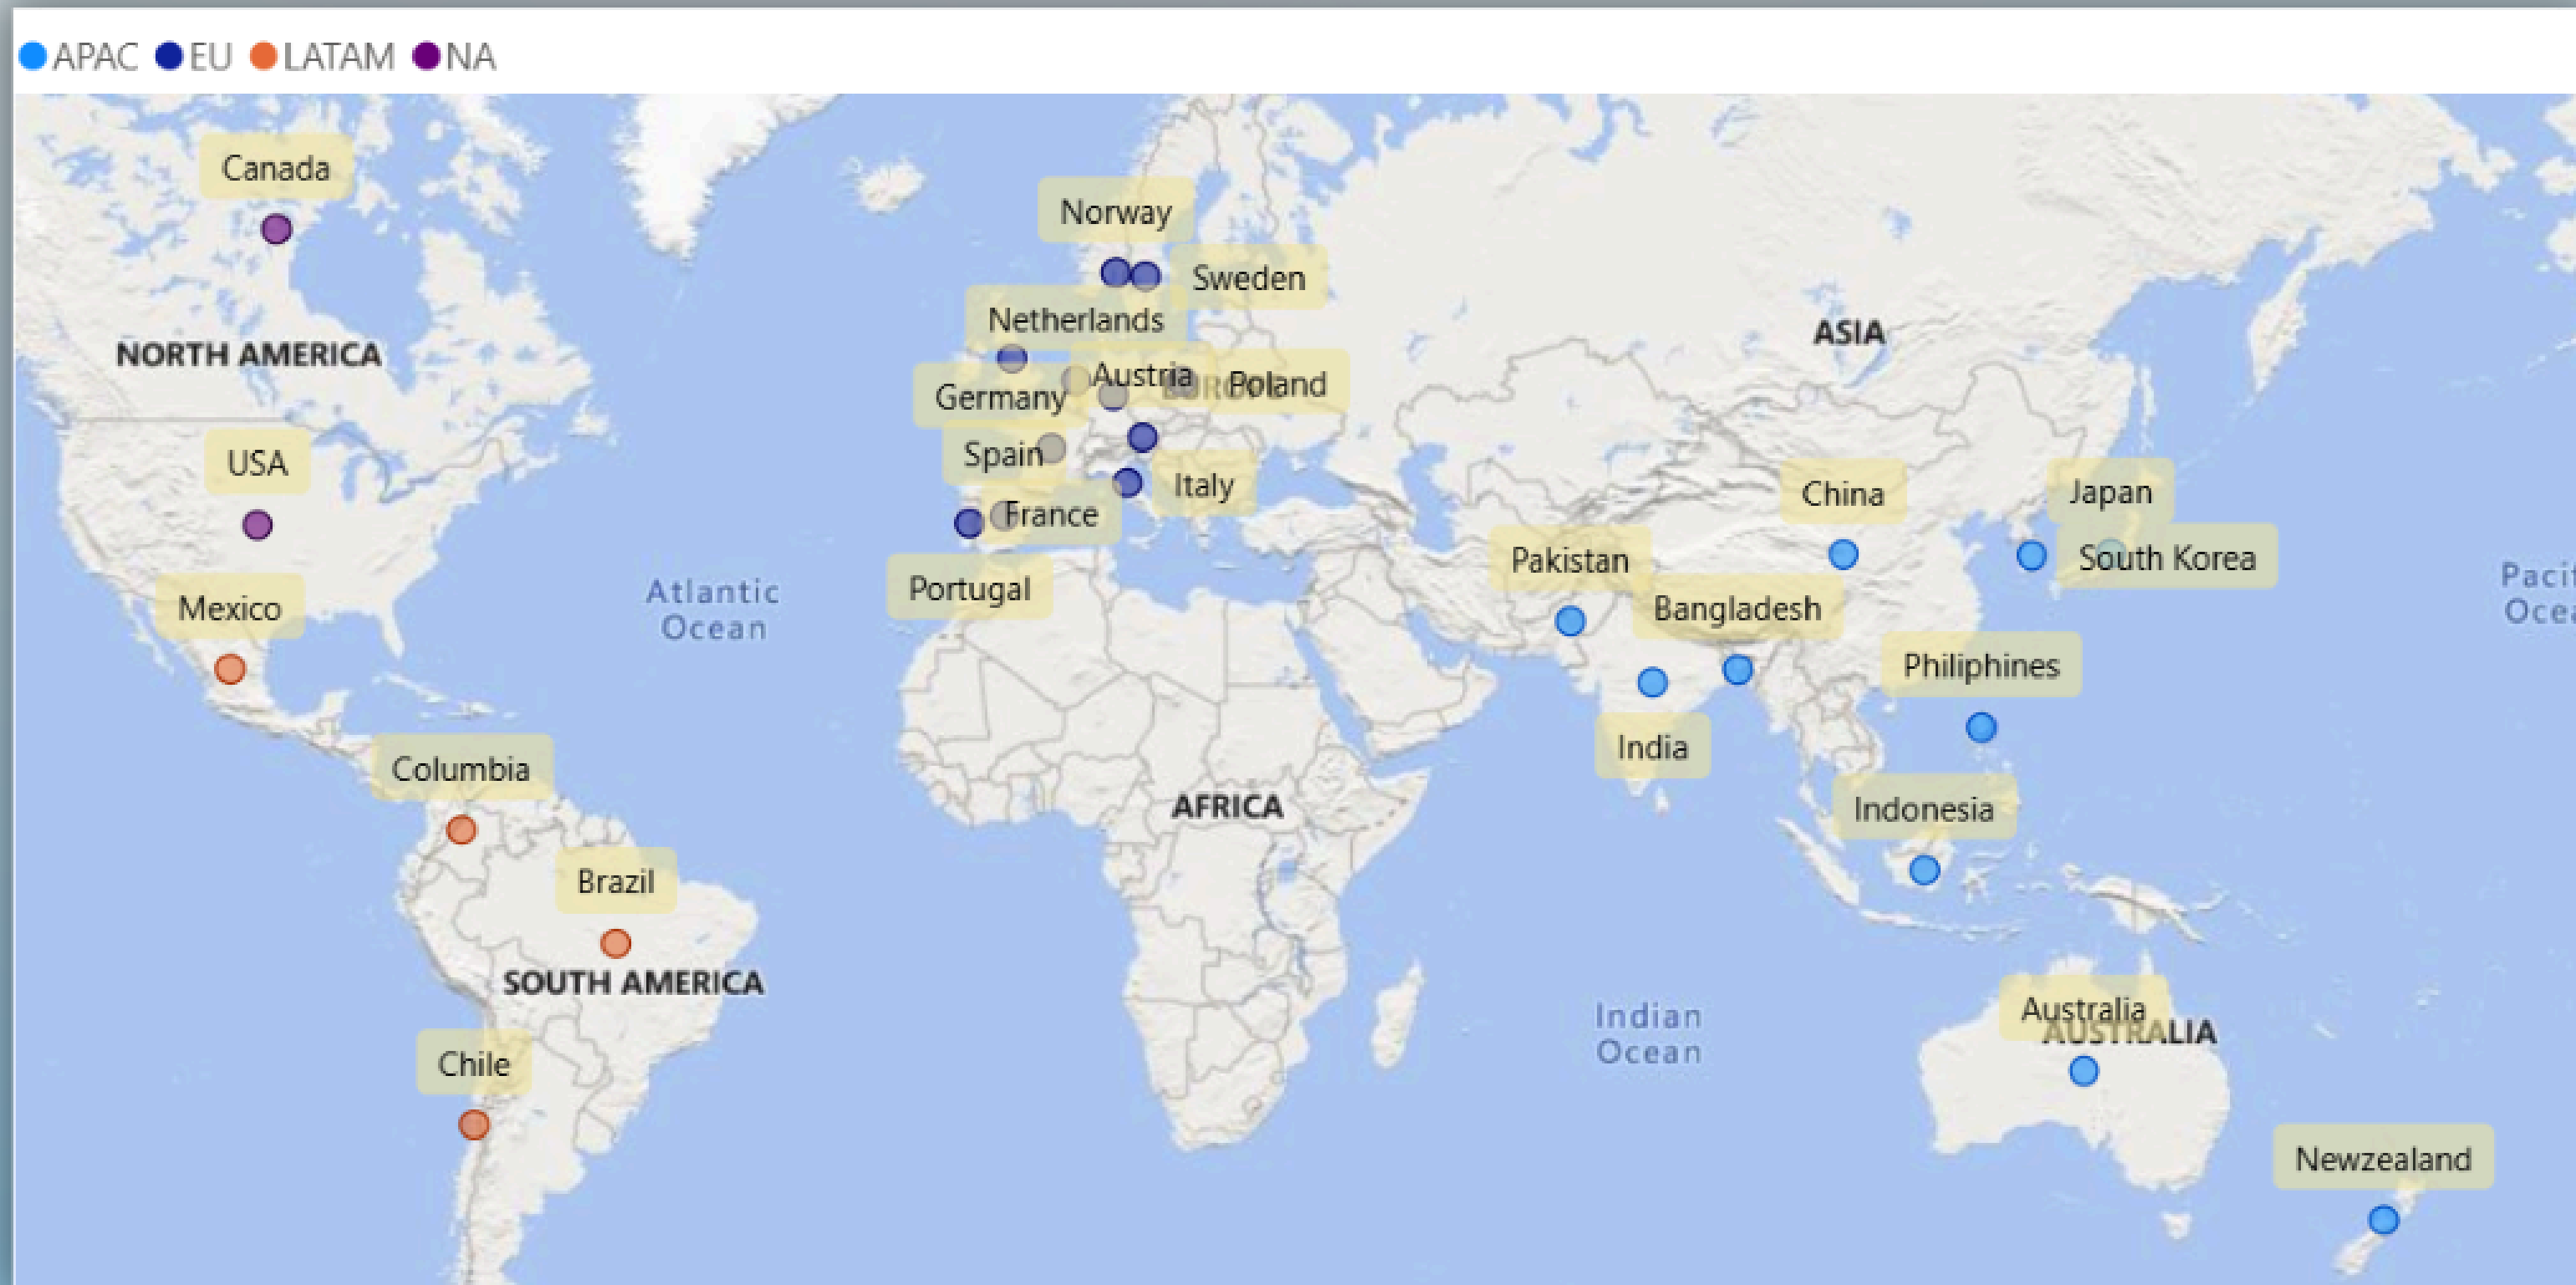

Product Distribution by Division, Segment & Category

- The product portfolio is divided into three main divisions: PC, P&A, and N&S.
- The P&A division has the highest number of product categories.
- The PC division focuses mainly on desktops and laptops.
- The N&S division includes networking and storage products.
- The company offers a diverse range of products across multiple segments.

Overview of AtliQ's Global Market Presence

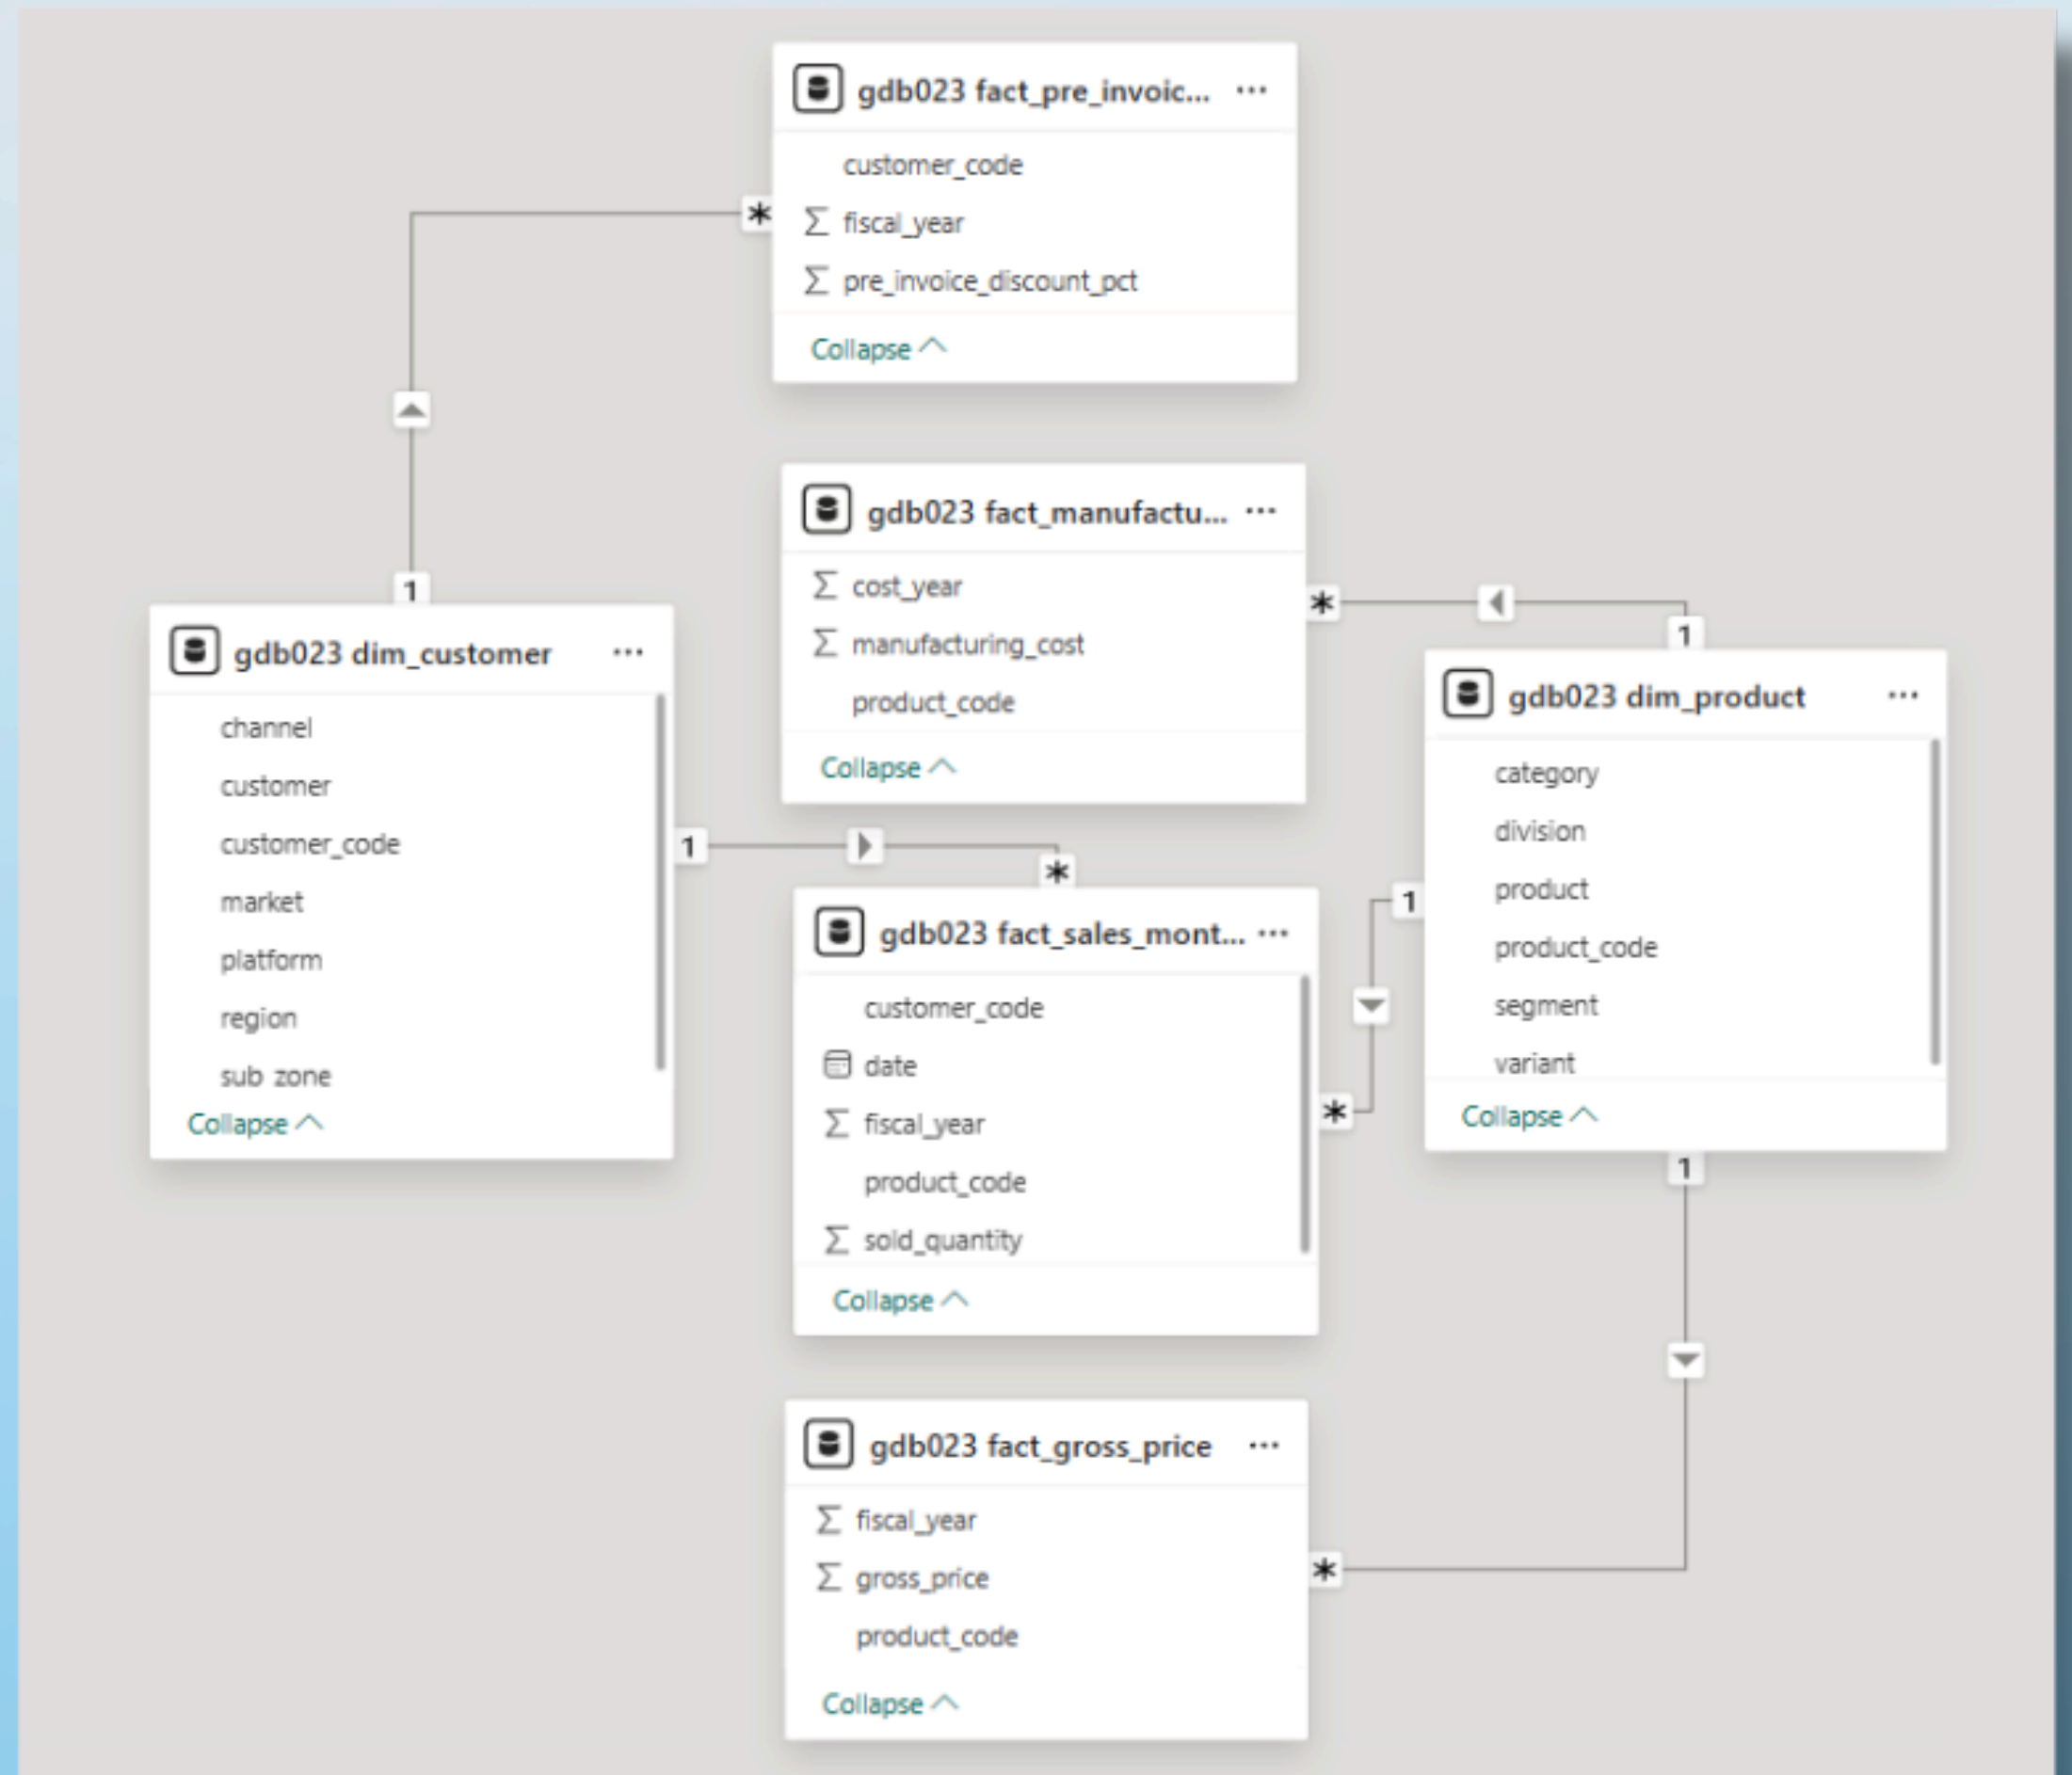

AtliQ operates across 4 major regions: APAC, EU, LATAM, and NA.

The company has a strong presence in APAC and Europe.

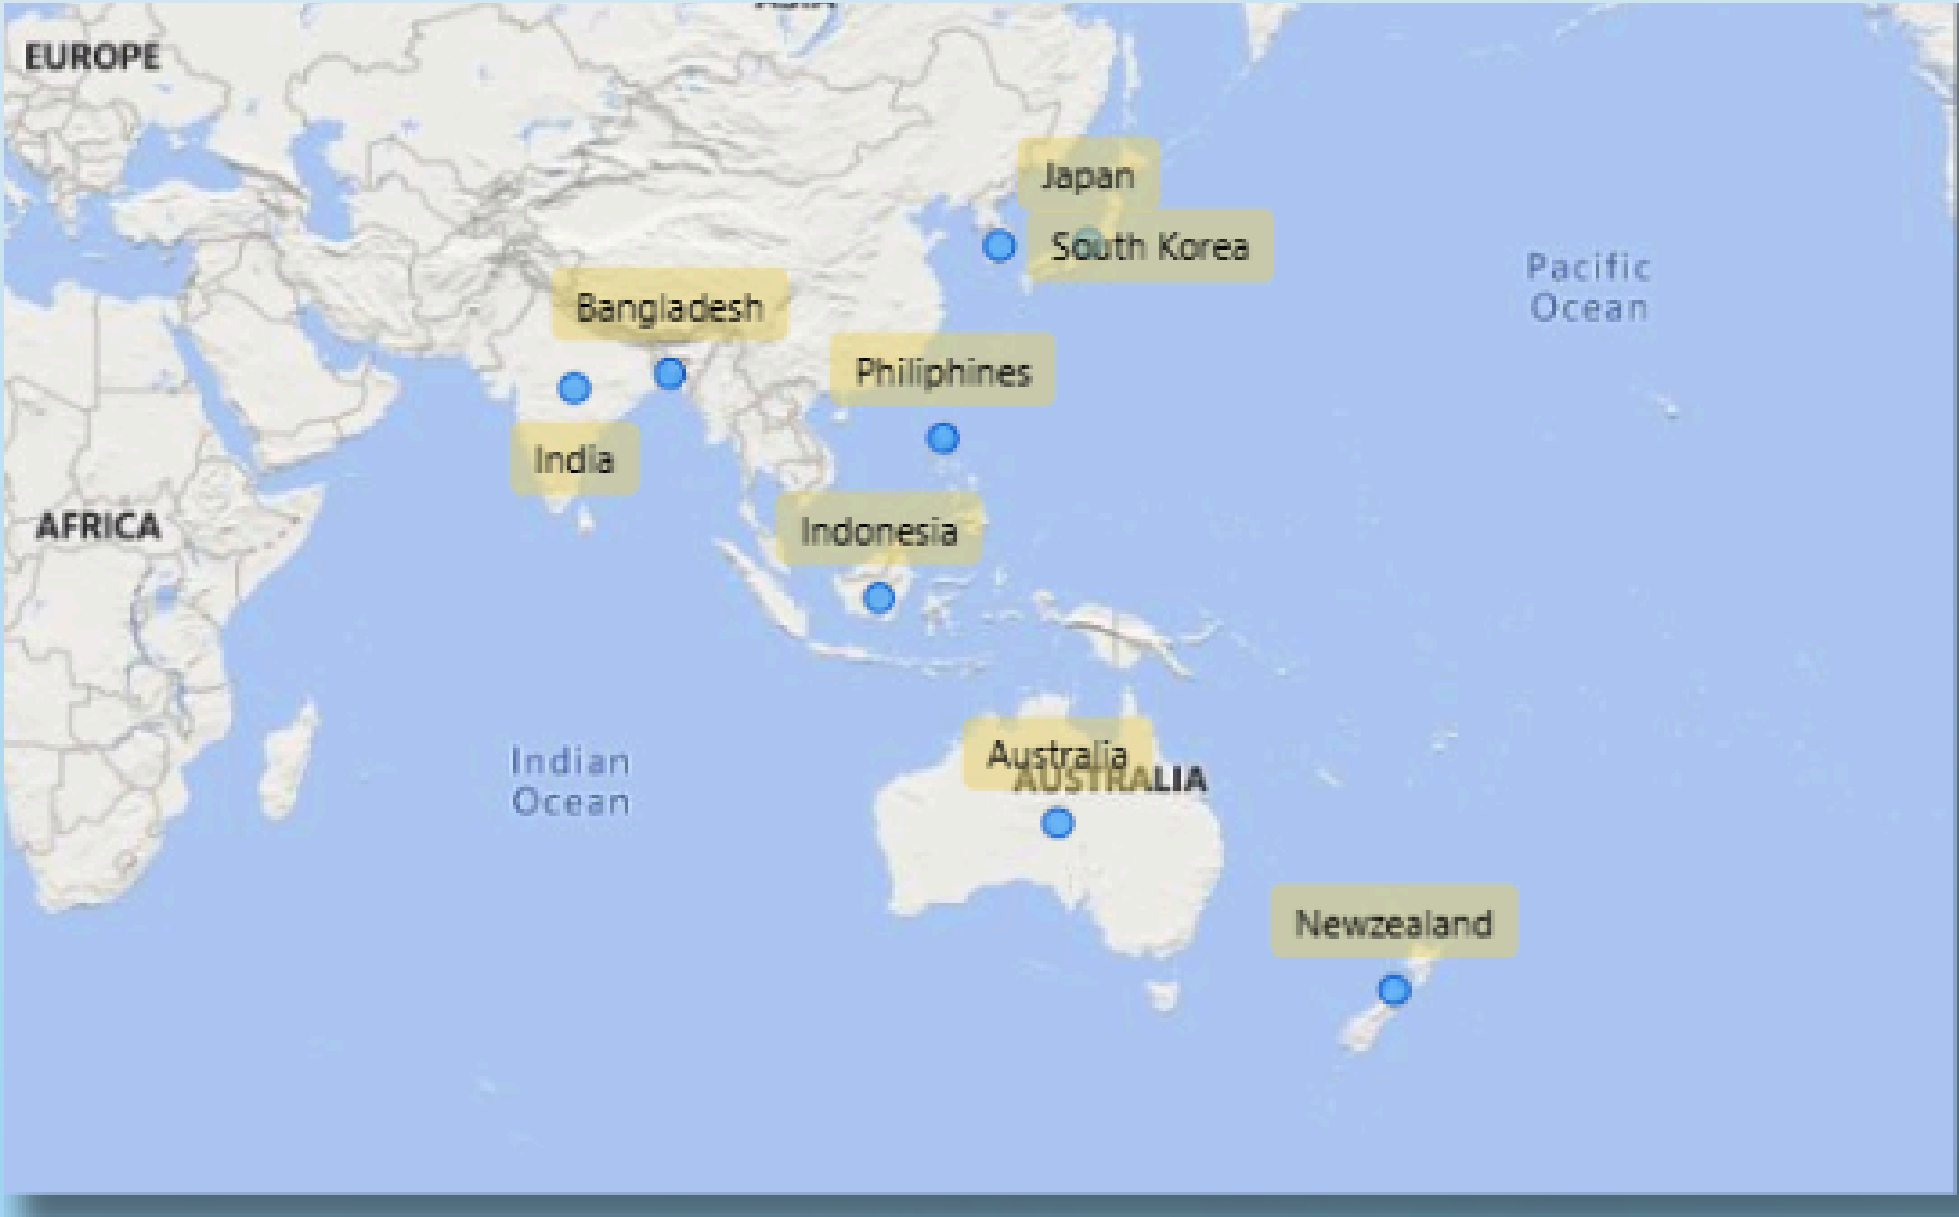

Data Used for Analysis

Input data consists of sales data for Fiscal Year 2020 and Fiscal Year 2021, along with different other dimension tables like Customer details, Product details, etc.
